

I have been bothered by the continuing media consolidation in American media. This concern is becoming not a concern of the "future" but has become a concern of "now". Sinclair Media has turned it's huge number of local media stations into a platform for political propaganda. Gone is even the appearance of impartiality.

This is not the America we should be building. It is not a nation of "Us" and "Them", but rather "Out of Many, One".

Please use your congressionally-given authority to ensure that the companies that you license the public airwaves to provide a more balanced view of America.
